Plastic Surgeons

February 14-18, 2015
Kailua-Kona, Hawaii

The Northwest Society of Plastic Surgeons : 2015 Annual Meeting Welcome

Friends, Colleagues, and Guests,

Welcome to the Northwest Society of Plastic Surgery's 53rd Annual Scientific Meeting. Thirty years ago when this group met here on Keauhou Bay, Microsoft had just released Windows, Madonna was redefining fashion, and New Coke would sputter and die in three months. A lot has changed in plastic surgery since then and a lot has changed on Keauhou Bay, the birthplace of King Kamehameha III.

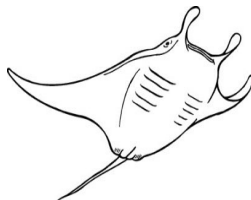

The builder of the hotel decided to light the reef so guests could appreciate the waves at night and soon discovered manta rays began to frequent the reef to feed on the plankton drawn to the light. Large-scale night snorkeling and diving began in 1991 and Manta Village was born. When I first met the mantas here in 2009 I knew I'd want to return NWSPS to this place. While you might need to travel to nearby White Sands for sandcastles or Kahaluu for kid-friendly snorkeling, the Keauhou Harbor offers paddle board and kayak rentals and the coast in this area has kayak-accessible sea caves and cliffs. The reef in front of the hotel is amazing daytime snorkeling as well for the more advanced snorkelers looking for mantas, turtles, rays, and cuttlefish. Sunscreen and an awareness about boat traffic are required. I hope you find the sights and sounds of the Pacific as relaxing as I do.

Gary Taubes is a science writer, professional skeptic, and the author of Why We Get Fat: And What to Do About It and Good Calories, Bad Calories. He has challenged conventional wisdom his entire career and it doesn't look like he's going to stop. Gary has a journalist's passion for investigation and a scientist's demand for empirical proof. He will probably try to convince me that New Coke was bad for a lot of reasons, not just the taste. Complementing Gary's talk will be the director of Swedish Hospital Weight Loss Services, Rick Lindquist, MD. I was fortunate enough to see him at the Washington Society of Plastic Surgeons a few years ago and he was a terrific speaker and guest of the society. Returning for another NWSPS meeting will be New Brunswick's very own Don Lalonde who invented hand doohickeys that are in my set and the only guy I've ever seen do an interview video with a patient during a tendon repair thanks to his well-known mastery of local anesthesia and game-changing use of adrenaline in the hand.

At NWSPS Sun Valley 2011, the dinner dance was a huge hit. While NWSPS members deserve applause for getting up and getting down, the High Street Band made it happen and that night a plan for a Hawaiian tour was born. They've been a pleasure to work with and you might just see them more than once...

I have been fortunate to have my wife Heather and our Executive Director Vicky Dean-Swart by my side (and when necessary on my case) for the year it takes to assemble this meeting. We all hope you leave here refreshed and a bit smarter.

History of the Northwest Society of Plastic Surgeons

Founded in 1962*

Plastic surgery in the Pacific Northwest was first practiced as a specialty by Dr. Adelbert Bettman, who began his practice in 1911. As was common at that time, Dr. Bettman was not a graduate of a residency program, but visited Drs. Staige Davis in Baltimore, and Vilray Blair in St. Louis, and did limit his practice to plastic surgery. Whether he, or Dr. Bames of Los Angeles, was the first plastic surgeon on the west coast, is open to conjecture, as is the fact that he may have done the first facelift in the United States. He utilized horse hair as suture material well into the sixties, and was known for his gauze, which was Scarlet Red, and oxyquinoline sulphate and in his treatment of burns with 5% Tannic Acid, followed by 10% Silver Nitrate.

The arrival of trained plastic surgeons began in 1937 with Dr. Charles Gurney who opened his practice in Portland, Oregon, having trained with Gillies in England, and with Gordon New at the May Clinic. Also in the late thirties, and early forties Edward Olin Schreiner began practice in Seattle. Walter Scott Brown began his practice in Seattle, though no a trained plastic surgeon, he limited his practice to the specialty. Others who began practice in the northwest near the end of World War II, and shortly thereafter were, Robert Langston of Vancouver, British Columbia, followed by his residents: Dr. Bob Cowan and Joe Badre, in Portland: Drs. Dan Stefanoff, Willard Rowland, and Vern Lindgren. In 1947, Ed Hamacher began working in Spokane, in 1948, Dr. Ernest Banfield began in Tacoma, in '40 and '50, Drs. Carl Chisholm and Matt Pilling began working in Seattle, and Dr. David Sullivan in Spokane. 1951 saw Dr. Dun Kavanaugh begin practice in Portland.

*Prior to the formation of the Northwest Society of Plastic Surgeons, there was a group known as the Pacific Northwest Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons, which took place in the Heathman Hotel in Portland, Oregon on March 27, 1952, with Dr. Bettman as its' president. They had an organizational meeting and signed articles of a constitution on April 5, 1952, at the University of Oregon Medical School. There were twenty in attendance at that meeting, which included in addition to the plastic surgeons, some pediatric surgeons from the Seattle area, and an otolaryngologist, also from the Seattle area, who limited his practice to the same field of interest. This organization held meetings annually from 1952 through 1960, and was dissolved in 1961 on the recommendation of an attorney retained by the group. It was suggested that the by-laws be re-written to comply with our American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeon's constitution and by-laws, which would limit active membership to board certified plastic surgeons. The initial meeting of this organization was held at the Empress Hotel in Victoria, B.C. In 1962, presided over by, then president, Williard Rowland.

Since that time, The Northwest Society has held annual meetings at various locations throughout the northwest, the April 1973 meeting being held in conjunction with the California Society, on Maui, Hawaii which must have stimulated the interest in the group from the Hawaiian members that were present because at the 20th annual meeting, held at the Sheraton Maui Hotel, the Hawaiians joined the Northwest Society. Whereas the original Northwest meant at first, only Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia, it now encompasses, Idaho, Montana, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Alaska, and Hawaii, and has approximately 150 active members and a growing list of honorary members who have been guests to our annual meetings.

Respectively submitted,
Linton G. Weed, M.D.
